INSPIRATION

Welsh Slate has been the bench mark for quality and durability for the last 300 years. Made from slate deposits that are over 500 million years old, the material is widely recognised worldwide by architects, developers and interior designers for its beauty and qualities, sourced in North Wales, Welsh slate has been used and crafted by many generations of people from all walks of life.

Our company also recognises that in today's commercial market, there is a demand for a cost-effective product. This has led us to source quality slate and stone material from reputable quarries worldwide, today Grey slate and Stone Ltd have grown its global partnerships to offer top quality slate at cost-effective prices. We specialize in Welsh slate, we still strongly believe that our Native slate is the best in the world. However, we can also offer our customer a choice for their project.
